

I am very disturbed by the extended delay in making a determination as to the proposed satellite merger between Sirius and XM. It is apparent to me that the terrestrial radio lobby and special interest terrestrial radio groups have more influence than they should be allowed. Why the delay? Why are we being denied the opportunity to hear the multitude of choices that would become available at lower costs if this merger is allowed. Do you really believe both can survive alone. We will be forced into a single provider if we are lucky that one survives without the price guarantees that the parties to the merger have indicated should the merger occur. It is amazing. However, nothing that occurs anymore in this administration surprises me. It is all about special interests and who has the fattest wallet. To the hell with the American public is the attitude that continues to resonate out of this administration. Elections are a wonderful thing as they will allow us to clean house of the obvious corruption that presently exists in Washington. Make a decision, one way or another!
